Dear Utah Citizen:

Are you facing this problem? You have pesticides which you no longer need but you do not know how to dispose of them safely and legally.

The Utah Department of Agriculture and Food (UDAF) is working to solve this problem with its voluntary pesticide disposal program. Citizens are requested to bring the unwanted pesticides to a central location in their region. Licensed hazardous waste disposal companies, under contract with the state, will pick up the pesticides and destroy them. Citizens who bring in the pesticides are protected from any risk of cost or penalty. No record of your name is kept after the collection.

If you would like to participate in this program, please fill in the columns listed on the opposite side of this sheet. If your pesticides are still usable and you would like to donate it to your county for pest control efforts, please check column "A".

UDAF will review your list and complete the necessary paperwork for disposal of the pesticides. This process may take up to one month or more. If you have unknown pesticides, UDAF may contact you and try to identify the unknown pesticide from a sample. You will be informed of the date, time, and location of the collection. All types of pesticides are eligible for disposal. After completing this form, please fold and mail it as indicated.

If you have any questions or concerns, please call a Compliance Specialist in your area: Ron Larsen (801) 538-7186 Salt Lake City; Darrell Cook (801) 851-7793 or Don Day (801) 851-7794 Provo; Mark Ashcroft (435) 752-6263 Logan; Mike Willardson (435) 734-3328 Brigham City; John Little (801) 399-8380 Ogden; Curtis Parker (801) 451-3406 Farmington; Bob Puck (435) 725-0202 Roosevelt; Carl Bott (435) 636-3234 Price; Roger Brian (435) 893-0476 Richfield; Rod Campbell (435) 634-5708 St. George; Robert Hougaard Program Manager (801) 538-7187.
